

[Intro: Cold spoken word | sparse 808]

This ain't no bedtime story.

This is concrete communion.

You wanna know how I operate?

Check the fucking records.

Check the scars.

Check the nights I survived when nobody gave a damn about tomorrow.

They test me.

I teach.

[Verse 1: Bouncing anapestic cadence]

I walk through the asphalt with dirt on my shoes,

With nothing but nerve and a reason to move.

They smile in my face while they plot from the side,

Then act fucking shocked when I see through the disguise.

I learned how the hungry move,

How the desperate talk,

How a fake-ass friend changes lanes when you walk.

I read the room quick.

I study the hands.

I don't need a confession

when I understand.

Cold face.

Still breath.

No panic.

No threat.

You came with your bullshit.

I don't have to bite.

You brought the darkness.

I brought fucking light.

I could've gone savage.

Could've answered with rage.

Could've put motherfuckers, back inside their cage.

But I don't need revenge to prove what I am.

I know exactly who I am when the pressure gets slammed.

They came looking for weakness.

I gave them restraint.
They came looking for blood.
I gave them grace.

[Pre-Drop: Cold drill | low end disappears]
Don't mistake mercy for being scared.

Don't mistake silence for not being prepared.

[DROP]
They test me.
I teach.

[Chorus: Bouncing anapestic hook + militant drill punches]
I give mercy to the motherfuckers
hoping I bleed,
While they're reaching for the blade
thinking that's what I need.

I stand in the fire,
my feet planted deep.
grace without surrender,
boundaries i keep.

You want my soul?
Fuck that.
You want my crown?
Take your best shot.
I'm still standing now.

You came looking for blood.
I answered with control.
You wanted me destroyed.
I wouldn't sell my soul.

[Verse 2: Faster bouncing cadence]
The streets don't love you.
They rent you the feeling.
One minute you're family, next minute they're scheming.

I've seen handshakes hide knives.
Seen smiles hide debt.
Seen grown-ass people still chasing respect.

I learned not every battle deserves my breath.

Some people want attention.
Some people want death.

Not mine.
Not theirs.
Not anybody's game.

I don't throw gasoline just because somebody came with a match and a mouth and a grudge and a plan.

I know what I'm capable of.
That's why I don't have to prove I'm the man.

I build while I'm bleeding.
I work through the suck.
You think restraint means weakness?
Bitch, good fucking luck.

Mercy ain't permission.
Grace ain't access.
Forgiveness ain't saying you can come back and wreck shit.

I forgive what happened.
I remember the terrain.
You can walk away breathing.
Don't come back the same.

[Drill Break: Ultra-cold | clipped delivery]
No fear.

Control.

No panic.

Discipline.

You brought the blade.

I brought restraint.

You wanted blood.

I gave you grace.

[Bridge: Anapestic build]

I could've let every betrayal turn my heart into stone.
Could've made every motherfucker pay what they owed.

But bitterness is expensive.
That shit charges interest.
You spend your whole life trying to punish a witness.

Nah.

I got scars.
I got receipts.
I got memories that still wake me up some nights.

But I don't worship the pain.
I don't kneel to the past.
I learned how to carry the weight without becoming the weight.

That's the lesson.

That's the difference.

[Pre-Drop: Everything cuts]
You wanted war.

I chose control.

[DROP: Full 808 impact]
That's mercy.

Not weakness.

Control.

[Final Chorus: Hybrid anapestic bounce + cold drill]
I give mercy to the motherfuckers
hoping I bleed,
While they're reaching for the blade
thinking that's what I need.

I stand in the fire,
my feet planted deep.
grace without surrender,
boundaries i keep.

You want my soul?
Fuck that.
You want my crown?
I don't need revenge to put your bullshit down.

They came looking for blood.
I answered with control.
They wanted me destroyed.
I wouldn't sell my soul.

[Outro: Dry close-mic vocal | fading 808]
They test me.

I teach.

Keep reaching.
Keep learning.

Faith in the filth.
Right here in the dirt.

I don't need to destroy you to know I survived.

I don't need your apology to know I'm alive.

Mercy ain't weakness.

Grace ain't surrender.

And forgiveness doesn't mean you get access forever.
