

[Main vocals focused]

[Ghostly female vocal echoing in background with heavy reverb]

The dance

The dance of the dark

The dance of dark and light

[Atmospheric pads build tension, sparse percussion enters]

(Main vocal) Dance of dark and light

(Female echo, haunting) Dance of dark and light...

(Main vocal) When shadows learn to shine tonight

(Female echo, fading) Shine tonight... shine tonight...

[Verse 1]

[Subtle percussion foundation]

I spent years trying to kill the parts of me that bled,

Apologizing for the fire that kept me fed,

Thought healing meant erasing every scar I'd earned,

But scars are just the places where the light returned.

They told me pick a side, be either saint or sin,

But I'm the storm that rages and the peace within,

I'm the question and the answer that won't reconcile,

I'm learning how to love my contradicted style.

[Pre-Chorus]

What if broken isn't something to be fixed?

What if darkness isn't something to resist?

What if all the parts they say don't belong

Are the very things that make me strong?

[Chorus]

[powerful main vocal delivery]

[Ghostly female vocal weaving through]

I'm dancing with my demons, they're teaching me to fly,

My wounds become my windows to see the deeper sky,

I'm learning that my shadow knows the steps my light forgot,

(Main vocal) In the dance of dark and light, (Female echo) dance of dark and light...

(Main vocal) it's the only truth I've got.

When shadows learn to shine, shine, shine,

(Female echo harmonizing) Learn to shine, learn to shine...

When broken hearts divine, divine, divine,

(Female echo) Hearts divine, hearts divine...

The mess becomes the message that I was born to bring,
(Main vocal) In the dance of dark and light, (Female echo) dance of dark and light...
(Main vocal) my soul begins to sing.

[Verse 2]

[Percussion more complex, layers building]

I used to hide the chapters that were written in my pain,
Now I read them like a roadmap in the driving rain,
Every mistake's a masterclass in staying alive,
Every fall's another lesson in how to survive.

The voice that whispers "you're not good enough" to me
Is the same one that screams "you're more than they can see,"
I'm done with choosing sides in a war inside my soul,
I'm the battlefield and the warrior, I'm learning to be whole.

[Pre-Chorus]

[Building intensity]

What if anger is just love that's been denied?
What if fear is just wisdom in disguise?
What if all the ugly parts they want to hide
Are the treasures buried deep inside?

[Chorus]

[Maximum emotional intensity]

I'm dancing with my demons, they're teaching me to fly,
My wounds become my windows to see the deeper sky,
I'm learning that my shadow knows the steps my light forgot,
The dance of imperfection is the only truth I've got.

When shadows learn to shine, shine, shine,
When broken hearts divine, divine, divine,
The mess becomes the message that I was born to bring,
My darkness and my daylight learning how to sing